Prakash Slim was born mired deep in the blues. Born in a small village in Nepal, his father died at the age of twenty nine, leaving his mother with three children to raise on her own. Slim is a died in the wool bluesman. He's been playing and teaching blues for a long time. For over twelve years he played lead, rhythm, bass as well as vocalist for various bands through out Nepal. After completing serious blues research with the Mt. Zion Memorial Fund in Mississippi and going through blues mentorship training with blues, jazz pioneer T. J. Wheeler, he totally shifted to country blues style. Country Blues From Nepal is Prakash Slim's first release.

Acknowledgement

I would like to thank the following people without whom this CD would never have become reality:

Lance Bowman and Kat McNeill for all their amazing support, Henry D Jones for giving me a hand in writing and phrasing my lyrics, Carl Wyatt for being a true friend and for working so hard to make this project come to fruition, Yves DeVile for jumping in on short notice with the mastering of this CD and allowing me to be part of the Deville Records label family! And last but not least my dear wife and my son for their relentless patience and understanding!

Thank You

Prakash Slim
